A Legacy Bottled

DU BOIS VINEYARDS UNVEILS ITS SECOND VINTAGE

After more than 90 years of cultivating grapes in Stellenbosch, the Du Bois family is deepening its winemaking journey with the release of the Du Bois Vineyards Sonop Chenin Blanc 2025. The second vintage under the family's own label marks another milestone in a story that began in 1931, when the family first established roots on the farm Sonop.

For generations, the Du Bois family supplied grapes to some of the Cape's most respected wine producers, earning a reputation for exceptional fruit. The launch of their own label in 2024 transformed them from growers to vigneron, with the maiden vintage selling out within months.

The Sonop Chenin Blanc 2025 is crafted from heritage bush vines planted in 1982 and 1986 on the slopes of Sonop Hill. Benefiting from a near-perfect growing season characterised by cool temperatures, excellent rainfall and low disease pressure, the wine reflects both site and season with remarkable clarity.

Naturally fermented and matured for eleven months on lees in old oak barrels, the wine offers layers of white pear, peach, citrus and subtle spice, balanced by vibrant acidity and a distinctive mineral character.

More than a wine release, the 2025 vintage celebrates a family legacy, generations of vineyard knowledge and a long-held dream finally realised in a bottle.

Colour Outside the Lines

INSIDE FRANSCHHOEK'S MOST JOYFUL CREATIVE SPACE

Toff & Dandy is redefining boutique retail with a vibrant blend of art, design, fashion and gifting. Created by local mother-and-daughter duo Candice and Alexandra Holgate, the lifestyle destination is a celebration of colour, creativity and conscious living, born from a shared belief that life is too short to be surrounded by beige.

Designed to evoke the feeling of an endless summer, the immersive space feels more like a living artwork than a traditional store. Its carefully curated collection features sustainable artworks, hand-tufted rugs, fashion, tableware, prints and distinctive gifts, with around 60% of products either created by the Holgates or developed in collaboration with local artisans, South African designers and independent brands.

Alexandra is responsible for the store's colourful, one-of-a-kind rugs, while Candice creates sustainable artworks and original prints. Together, they have built a platform that champions African creativity while supporting local makers and homegrown talent.

Sustainability is woven throughout the brand, from recycled artworks to innovative design elements such as a dressing-room mirror crafted from discarded plastic and repurposed moving boxes.

Inspired by travels to warmer destinations during the Western Cape winter, Toff & Dandy captures the optimism and energy of perpetual summer through bold design and playful curation. Whether searching for a statement piece, a meaningful gift or simply a splash of colour, visitors will discover a space dedicated to bringing more joy into everyday life.

To experience Toff & Dandy, simply follow the pink sign to Shop No. 6, Huguenot Square (opposite Woolworth) a 24 Huguenot Road, Franschhoek, or get in touch at contact@toffanddandy.co.za

MAURITIUS WELCOMES THE FIFTH C KITE FESTIVAL

In June 2026, Mauritius' east coast became the epicentre of kiteboarding, music and beach culture as the C Kite Festival returned for its highly anticipated fifth edition.

Hosted at C Mauritius Palmar, the event has evolved into one of the island's most exciting lifestyle festivals, attracting professional riders, ocean enthusiasts and travellers from around the world.

Created in collaboration with renowned kitesurfer and ocean advocate Antoine Auriol, the festival offers a unique blend of high-performance sport and laid-back island living. More than a competition, it is a celebration of freedom, connection and the energy of the ocean, where professional athletes and passionate amateurs share the water and the experience.

This year's line-up featured some of the sport's biggest names, including Big Air World Champion Lorenzo Casati, 2024 World Champion Zara Hoogenraad, freestyle sensation Giel Vlugt, five-time British Champion Hannah Whiteley, French record-holder Clément Huot and Mauritian favourite Louka Pitot.

Over three action-packed days, guests enjoyed spectacular kiteboarding sessions, live music, sunset gatherings and vibrant beach parties as well as festival highlight – the iconic downwind ride from Palmar to Poste Lafayette, which showcased the breathtaking beauty of the Mauritius' coastline.

Adding a new dimension to the programme, the festival introduced the island's first-ever Kite By Night experience, with illuminated kites transforming the night sky into a dazzling display of light, movement and creativity.

Set against the backdrop of turquoise lagoons and tropical landscapes, the C Kite Festival 2026 created an unforgettable celebration of sport, adventure and island lifestyle, firmly cementing its place as one of the Indian Ocean's most distinctive annual events.
