A Slice of History

AFRICA'S FIRST BREAD SOMMELIER

La Motte Bakery's Ricardo Slawers has made history as Africa's first certified Bread Sommelier, earning international recognition for his expertise in the art, science and heritage of bread.

After 12 years with the La Motte baking team, Ricardo's journey reached a new milestone following the opening of the estate's artisanal bakery in 2023, where he refined his craft under master baker Markus Färbinger. His studies in Germany explored everything from bread culture and sensory tasting to global baking traditions and food pairings, culminating in a thesis on the Cape Winelands' much-loved mosbolletjies.

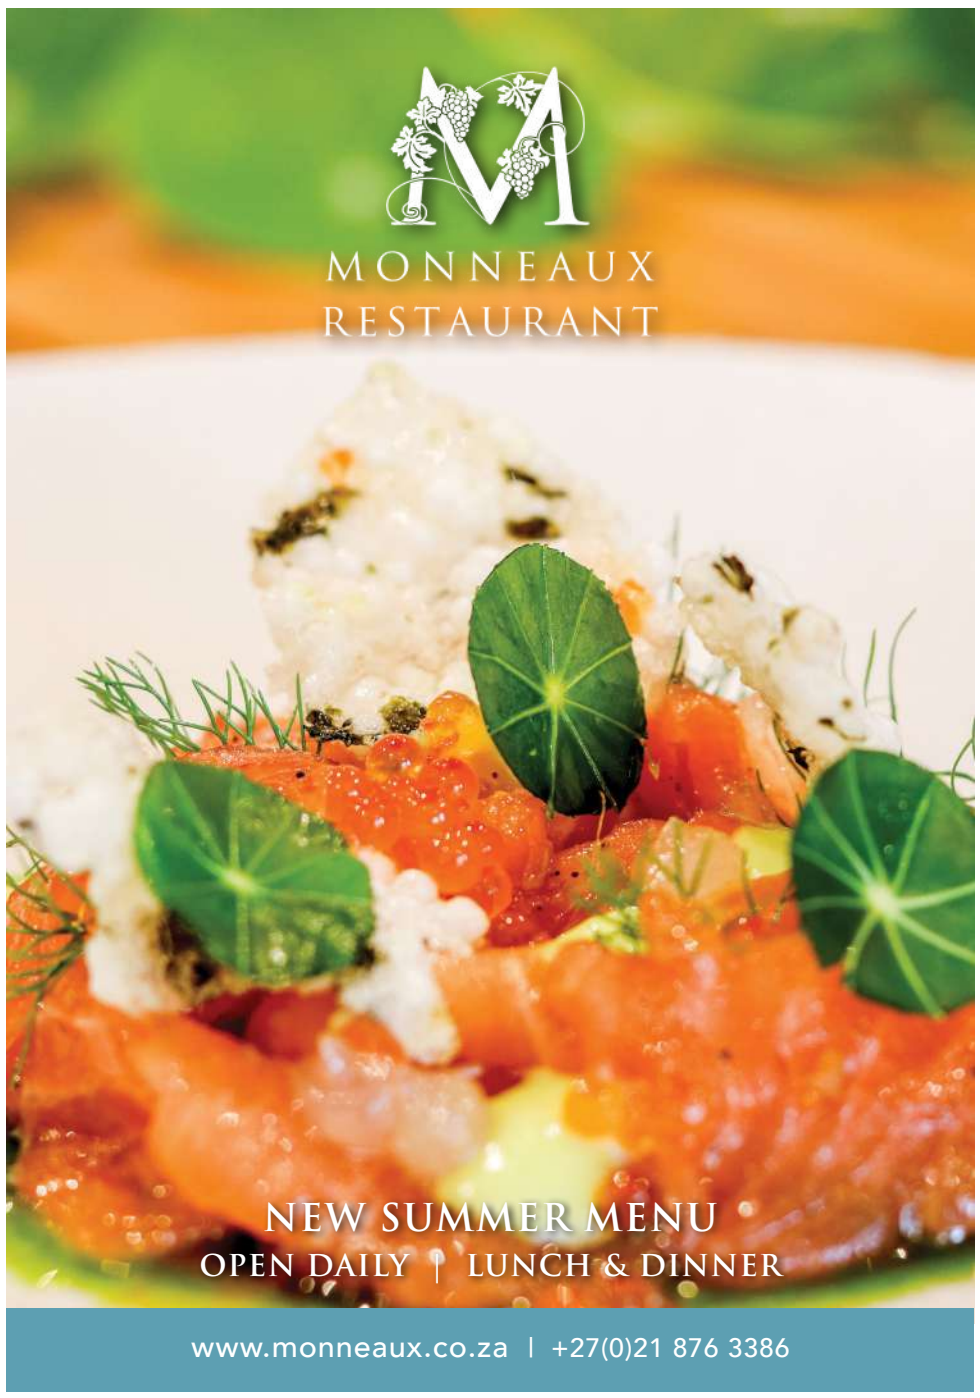

Now back home, Ricardo is passionate about sharing a deeper appreciation for bread as both a wholesome food and an integral part of South African heritage. His achievement is a celebration of artisan craftsmanship, local tradition and the extraordinary possibilities hidden in something as simple as a loaf.

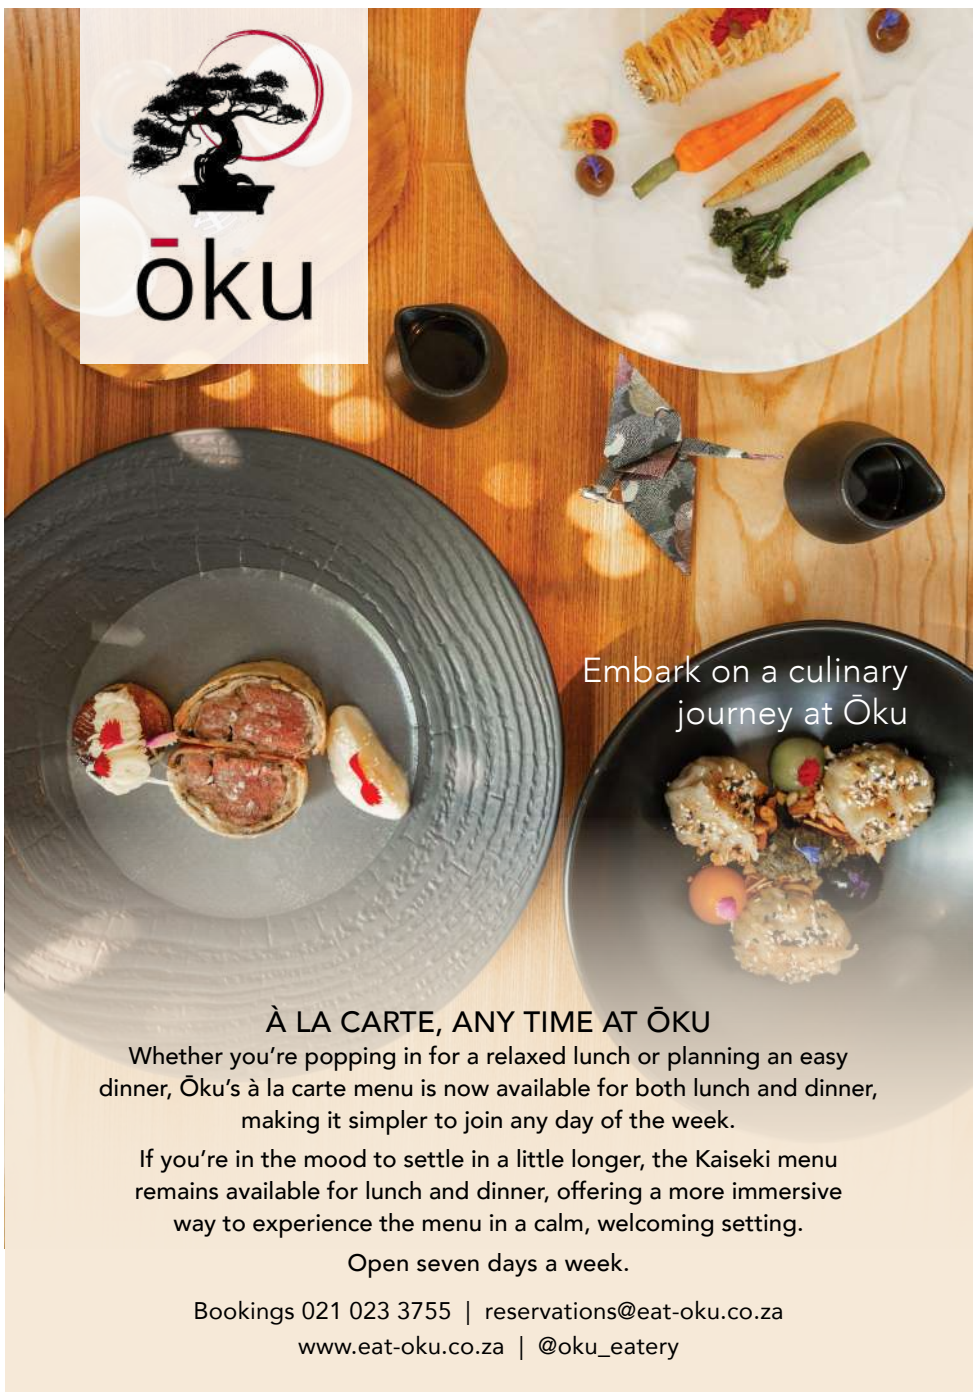

EXPERIENCE THE ART OF BREAD

La Motte's milling and bread-baking experiences reopen in November, hosted by Ricardo on the third Thursday and Saturday of each month.

The Pleasure of Discovering Backsberg

Some wine farms are made for a tasting. Backsberg is made for settling in — with mountain views, wines with personality and a braai that turns lunch into an occasion.

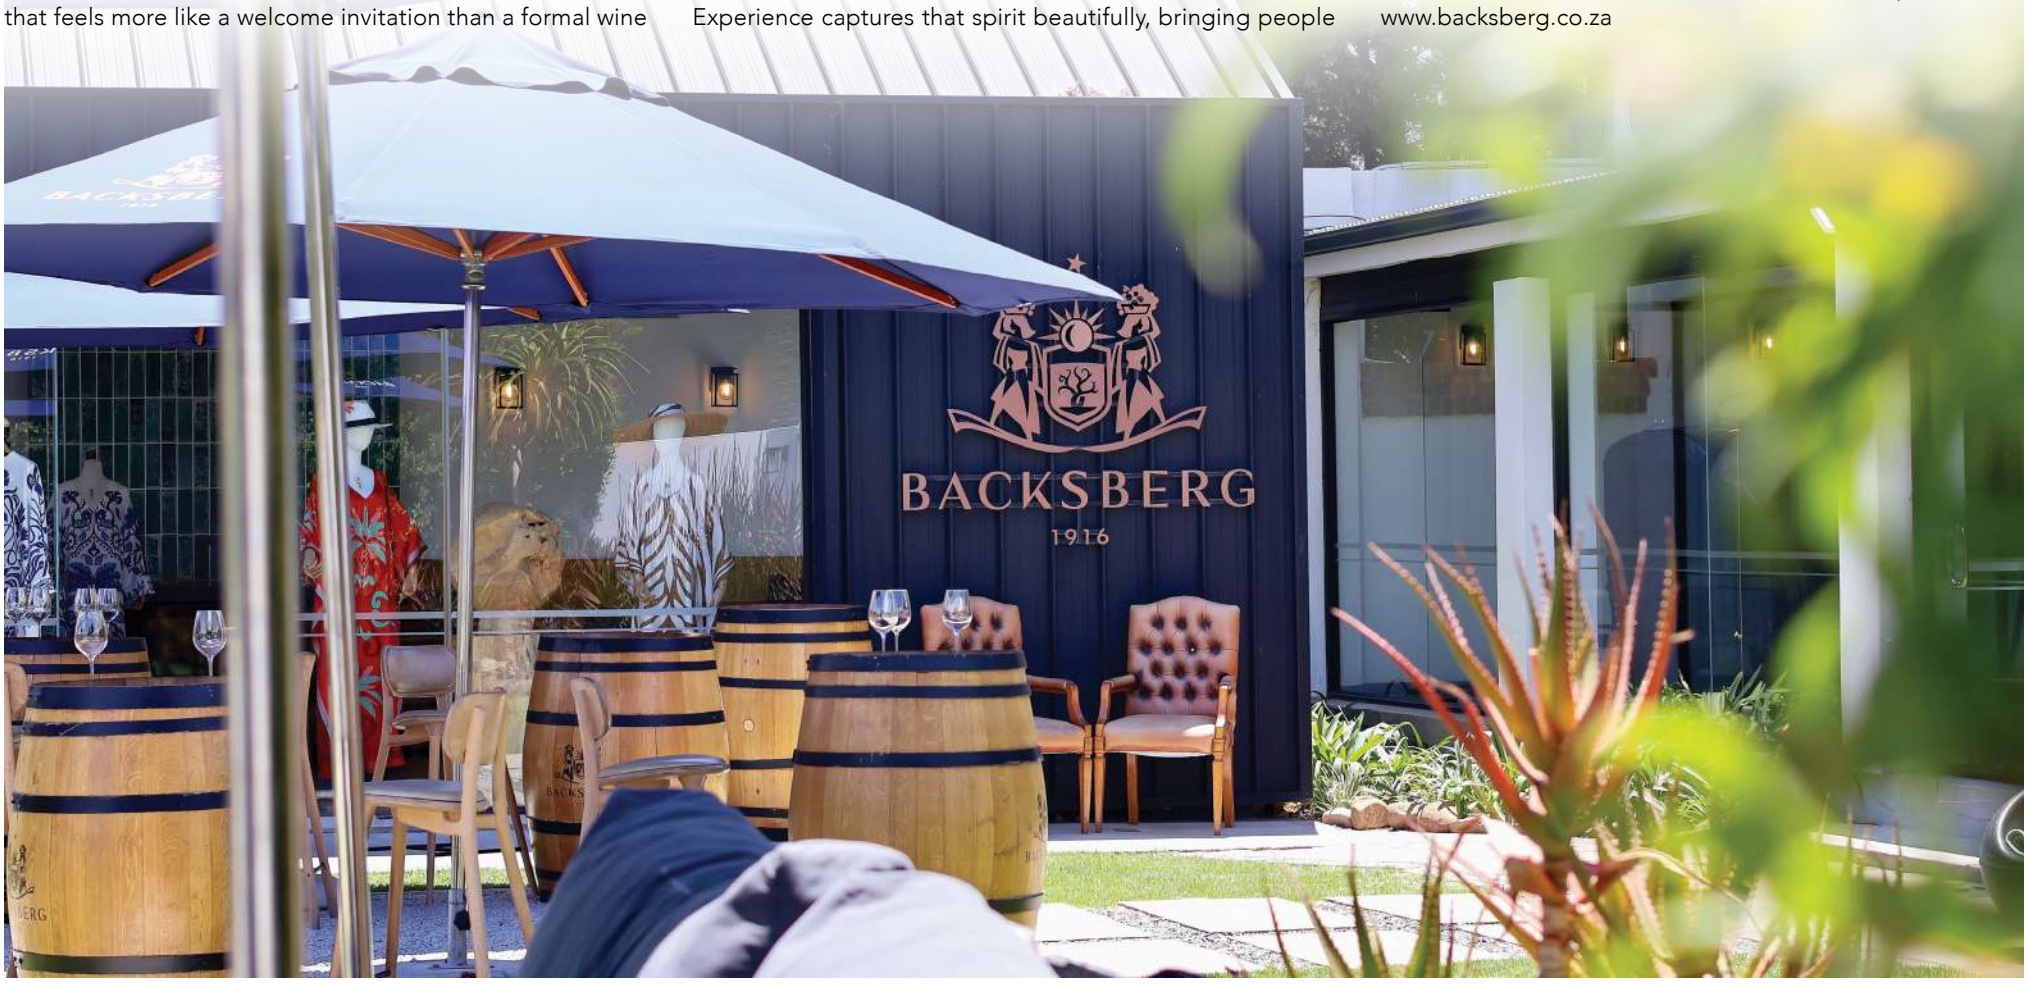

In a valley filled with picture-perfect wine estates, Backsberg Family Wines stands apart by being entirely comfortable in its own skin. Rooted in generations of family winemaking, this is an estate where heritage matters and good wine is there to be enjoyed.

The setting is spectacular, with sweeping mountain views providing the backdrop to a Cellar Door experience that feels more like a welcome invitation than a formal wine occasion. Take your time exploring the collection, discover the stories behind the bottles and settle into the easy rhythm of the estate. Backsberg has a way of turning a quick tasting into an afternoon well spent.

And then there's the braai — wine flowing, something sizzling over the coals and good conversation around the fire. A South African classic. The Backsberg Braai Experience captures that spirit beautifully, bringing people together in a setting made for eating well, drinking well and lingering a little longer.

Backsberg offers a refreshing alternative to the predictable. Come for the views, get to know the wines and make a day of it.

Drawing the Rhythm

MONTREUX JAZZ FESTIVAL FRANSCHHOEK REVEALS 2027 POSTER

Cape Town artist Michael Beckurts captures the energy of live jazz in the artwork for the festival's return to Franschhoek, 19–21 March 2027.

The rhythm of jazz meets the spontaneity of live art in the official poster for the 2027 Montreux Jazz Festival Franschhoek, created by 26-year-old Cape Town multidisciplinary artist Michael Beckurts.

Following in the footsteps of acclaimed South African artist Sam Nhlengethwa, who designed the inaugural festival poster, Beckurts brings his distinctive line drawings and bold colour to a tradition that has featured international icons including Andy Warhol, Keith Haring and David Bowie.

Known for drawing live at concerts, Beckurts captures the movement, atmosphere and connection between musicians and audiences in real time. His work offers a fitting tribute to a festival built on the shared energy of live performance.

Limited-edition signed posters will soon be available to pre-order via mjfsa.com, alongside a souvenir edition in the festival's merchandise range. Programme details and ticket-sale dates will be announced soon.

A Journey Through the Cape, Crowned the Best in Africa

An extraordinary culinary journey at Urchin Restaurant earns double honours at the 2026 World Culinary Awards.

Some dining experiences are memorable. Others tell a story. At Journey, the signature tasting menu at Urchin Restaurant, Hyatt Regency Cape Town, every course is an invitation to discover the flavours, landscapes and cherished food memories of the Western Cape.

Less than two years after its debut, Journey has claimed two prestigious titles at the 2026 World Culinary Awards: Africa's Best Fine Dining Experience and South Africa's Best Culinary Experience. The accolades celebrate the vision of Executive Chef Marcus Gericke, South African Chef of the Year 2024, and his team's distinctive approach to contemporary fine dining.

At the heart of Journey is an 11-course tasting menu conceived as a road trip on a plate. From the rolling vineyards of the Cape Winelands to the Garden Route, the fishing village of Paternoster and the colourful, spice-filled streets of Bo-Kaap, each course captures the character of a place and the memories it evokes.

The menu showcases exceptional South African ingredients, including kingklip, springbok, Karoo lamb, peppadews and indigenous produce, reimagined through thoughtful technique and contemporary presentation. Familiar flavours are elevated into something unexpected, while each dish reveals another chapter in the region's rich culinary heritage.

For Gericke, the experience is deeply personal, drawing on the Sunday lunches, coastal fish braais and aromatic Cape Malay cooking that have shaped his connection to the region. It is also a tribute to the farmers, fishers and local producers whose ingredients bring the story to life.

The double win is a remarkable milestone for a restaurant concept that celebrates not only culinary excellence, but also the people, places and traditions that make the Cape so distinctive.

For those seeking a dining experience with a true sense of place, Journey offers an opportunity to savour the Western Cape in an entirely new way — one exceptional course at a time.

A WORLD OF BUBBLES, BEYOND BORDERS

Graham Beck makes history with its first English Sparkling Wine, bringing South African expertise to the chalk soils of southern England.

A celebrated South African sparkling wine house is embarking on an exciting new chapter. Graham Beck, synonymous with exceptional Cap Classique, has launched its first English Sparkling Wine — a limited-edition 2018 vintage that takes its pursuit of the perfect bubble to new territory.

Part of the Artisan Collection, the wine is crafted from Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier sourced from Hampshire and West Sussex, where cool maritime conditions and chalk-rich soils create ideal foundations for elegant traditional-method sparkling wine.

The idea took shape in 2016, when former Cellarmaster Pieter "Bubbles" Ferreira recognised England's growing potential as a sparkling wine region. Developed alongside owner Antony Beck and brought to fruition with current Cellarmaster Pierre de Klerk, the project unites two distinguished wine cultures through a shared commitment to precision, patience and craftsmanship.

In the glass, the 2018 vintage offers layers of citrus, orchard fruit, toasted brioche and almond, with fine bubbles, creamy texture and a beautifully persistent finish.

Produced in extremely limited quantities, this landmark release is more than an expansion of the Graham Beck portfolio. It is a bold expression of the House's innovative spirit and a compelling reminder that the pursuit of exceptional sparkling wine knows no borders.

Available in South Africa from September 2026, priced at R1,200 per bottle.
